. . . In these troubled days, we of America are challenged to prove that democracy is the better way of life. In this '49 Caldron we show, through the eyes of the cameraman, that democracy lives and works at Central.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
VOCATIONAL - INDUSTRIAL

Won't you now enter, through these doors, to see how DEMOC-RACY is lived at Central?

CENTRAL'S portals are opened wide to students desiring education. Here in our friendly classrooms newcomers are quickly absorbed. Our teachers have a personal interest in each student and extend their guidance out of the classrooms. Not only is fellowship offered, but an extremely rich and varied curriculum is at hand. We have industrial shops where trades and skills are offered for the advancement of industry; in our English classes the works of Milton and Shakespeare are offered for a cultural background. Throughout this schedule, individual advancement is heartily encouraged and attained. This is a practice of true democracy.

Find out for yourself!
That's the scientific approach in biology—and the spirit of our democracy.

For Citizenship . . .

INCREASED knowledge in the fundamentals of our government and a better understanding of the meaning of citizenship lead toward a democratic life. We Centralites gain this knowledge and understanding in the study of subjects such as civics, government, sociology, history, and family relations. These subjects bring out problems of the past and future along with their democratic solutions. Through the study of history, we see examples of great Americans who helped make this country free for all. Yes, we of the future America must understand our freedom and democracy in order to keep it

TOP: Carol Kiel and Connie Pepler exchange views in Mr. Maurice Ashley's orientation class.

BELOW: Becky Parker leads a discussion on staying out evenings in Miss Gertrude Keep's family relations class.

Patty Fitch points out Marion County in Mr. Richards' 12A civics class.

For Free Expression...

Free expression is both basic and necessary in a democracy. Students at Central have a chance to express themselves freely in their classes. English themes, journalism stories, discussion and answers to class questions stimulate better self-expression. Speech classes provide practical situations for the expansion of free expression; delivering explanatory, impressive, or persuasive speeches help students to meet new situations with confidence. Discussions in classes help to quicken the thinking power of an individual and develop the ability of freely discussing one's opinion of a certain subject. In these ways Central helps strengthen democracy through free expression.

TOP: Mr. Fleck is showing his fourth period journalism class how to correct galley proof.

MIDDLE: Free Enterprise is the topic of this 12B Economics class in Miss Pence's room. Marlene Koenig leads the discussion.

BOTTOM: Jack Rolf, the prosecuting attorney in 12A speech class mock trial, is leaving the verdict to the shocked jury.

Mr. Richardson's sociology class discusses the topic of personality. Dale Gaskill (standing) leads the class in the discussion.

For Character . . .

DEMOCRACY depends on strong individuals. Strong individuals depend on strong character. All classes at Central teach character. Sticking to difficult assignments, studying lives of industrious persons, reading literature of great men, and learning correct rules of conduct are a few ways in which Central classes help build strong character to work for democracy. Teachers teach students the value of clean living, honesty, perseverance, thrift, hard work, good manners, neatness, and many other traits. Students gain from their classes ideas and ideals on which they base their lives. Central teaches her students character to make better citizens for our world tomorrow.

BELOW: Members of the 7Rx English class are giving an amateur's version of "Hamlet" while the rest of the class follows the lines.

from literature serve to build stronger character.*

For Working . . .

CENTRAL, a democratic institution, prepares pupils for vocations of their choice. Central gives all students a chance to learn many trades before they attempt to go out into the world to acquire good jobs. Girls and boys can learn typing, shorthand, comptometer, and types of business machines. Girls may learn cooking, sewing, and child care. Boys may take all types of shop work such as auto, electricity, drawing, and machine shop. Thus, all students have the greatest number of opportunities. Central gives its graduates a better outlook on life and a greater chance for advancement in the world. Economic security means strong democracy.

TOP: Mr. Hemphill, auto shop teacher, is teaching these boys to adjust an air filter.

BOTTOM: Mr. Todd, drawing instructor, is showing Bob Clevenger and Phil Holom the technique of blue-printing.

Martha Weeks and Rosemary Kelso measure the hem length on the skirt for Lois Morrison in Mrs. Chester's sewing class.

For Health . . .

HEALTHY citizens are happy citizens and happy citizens make democracy work. Central recognizes the importance of health knowledge and health training. Classes in health and safety teach boys and girls the causes, prevention, symptoms, and cures of many diseases. The teaching of first-aid enables pupils to know how to act quickly at times of accident, and, perhaps, to save lives. Pupils learn health also in cooking classes, from lessons in well-balanced meals and proper diets, and in gym, from exercises building body muscles. Health comes first, before all else.

TOP: Planning a healthful breakfast are Joan McGrath, Betty Ridiger, Leola Jinks, Arline Hudzinski.

Boys learn to climb ropes and build muscles in gym classes. John Bonner mans the rope in a demonstration.

For Understanding . . .

IN A democracy citizens must be free, clear thinkers. To be clear thinkers, people must understand present-day situations by gaining background. Enemies of democracy thrive on ignorance and lack of understanding. Knowing the facts and then drawing conclusions is a practice which leads the way to clear thinking. History, social science, and science gives this necessary knowledge. Here at Central these classes offer the background and culture needed for the foundation of our thoughts. They provide a knowledge which opens the way for an educated citizen in the future. Here is the platform of democracy, for an educated citizenry is a free citizenry.

TOP: Mr. Still is showing members of his American history class the location of Bombay.

BOTTOM: These physical geography students are checking temperature, analyzing barograph record, and locating places mentioned in the New York Times.

These artists begin sketches of a still life arranged by one of the class.

For Understanding . . .

A BETTER knowledge of the happenings in life and the world of nature leads the way to a better understanding of community and personal problems. Here at Central this better understanding is gained through our teachers in our classes. We gain a better understanding by applying our gained knowledge to situations we face now and will face in later life. Through the study of biology and other sciences we learn about the mechanics of the great machine called man, thus paving a way for an understanding of the arts of man. Yes, we, the future citizens of the United States attending Central, through a keener knowledge and a better understanding, make way for a better democracy.

TOP: Mr. Aldred is getting the microscope adjusted so that his 9B biology students can look at some magnified algae.

BOTTOM: Mr. Haley, principal, along with members of the 12B chemistry class, watches Mr. Dilts perform an experiment in osmosis and conductivity.

Gloria Aumiller shares her findings in our library with Jim Murphy, while Jean Tudor seeks more background material.

HERE at Central, we are fortunate in having a faculty who teach with the spirit of helpfulness. According to the faculty at Central, there is no unimportant pupil. Every boy or girl has the privilege of being helped or guided. This is shown by the very fact that many teachers besides teaching a full load of classes each day, sponsor extra-curricular activities and various clubs. Teachers often stay after school to help those who have been ill or who need special help to keep up with the class. The spirit of helpfulness is in keeping with the spirit of democracy.

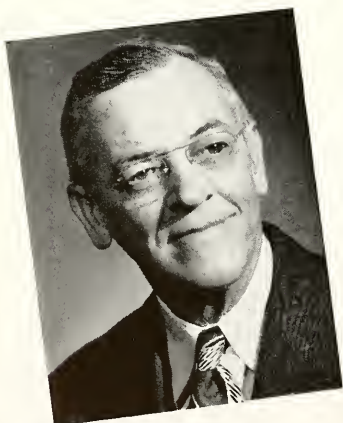

Teachers and families wait in line to get their food while early birds feast at the family fall picnic at Sears Pavilion.

Our Superintendent, Principal,

OUR SUPERINTENDENT AND PRINCIPAL, in heading our school, set an example of democracy. They both recognize the importance of the individual pupil in education and know that there is no unimportant child. No pupil need fear to ask for aid or advice from Mr. Merle J. Abbett, our superintendent and neighbor, for he considers no problems too small or too large for his consideration. Our principal, Mr. J. Wilbur Haley, for whom this year starts his career as principal of Central High School, is also willing to encourage any student. He presents the problems of the school and makes his appeals on a man-to-man basis to enlist the help of all. Mr. Haley was principal of Washington Grade School before he came to Central to take over the duties of the retiring principal, Mr. Fred H. Croninger.

Mr. Abbett and Mr. Haley meet on the steps of the administration building to discuss a problem relative to Central.

MERLE J. ABBETT—Superintendent of Schools. Franklin College, A.B.; Columbia University, A.M. Came to Fort Wayne in February, 1932.

J. WILBUR HALEY—Principal of Central High School. Manchester, A.B.; Indiana University, M.S.; University of Michigan. Came to Central in 1934, left in 1936, returned in 1948.

Deans Help Each Boy and Girl

CENTRAL'S DEANS, Miss Meribah Ingham, dean of girls, and Mr. Ralph O. Virts, dean of boys, help Centralites with their problems. Since democracy is only as strong as its individuals, our deans help to strengthen Centralites. They do so through conferences with students wanting help in their school work, social life, outside jobs, and private lives. Mr. Virts helps students with educational and social conflicts. As this is the first year the dean of boys has had an office, many boys who formerly went to the principal's office for advice now seek help from Mr. Virts' quarters. Miss Ingham keeps the social calendar, relays telephone calls, and meets many problems in her well-filled day. An interesting experiment of this year has been her work with the senior girls doing practice teaching in the elementary schools.

Our two deans, Miss Ingham and Mr. Virts, have a friendly talk.

MERIBAH INGHAM—Dean of girls, Battle Creek College, A.B.; Indiana University, M.S. Came to Central in 1930.

RALPH O. VIRTIS—Dean of boys, Head of Mathematics, Indiana University, A.B. and M.A. Came to Central in 1927.

Counselors

MISS MILDRED J. BRIGHAM, our guidance director, helps us not only on individual problems but on difficulties in curriculum and four-year cards. She helps us choose our colleges and jobs. She schedules various vocational talks for the seniors. Everyone who goes to see her can expect individual attention until the problem is solved. Such help with individual problems is indeed democratic.

Miss Mildred J. Brigham makes guidance plans while Betty Staton checks the file. Mr. Estal Smuts, junior co-ordinator, seeks background information on boys he advises.

OUR VISITING TEACHER, Mrs. Gretta Grisell is one of Central's several counselors. She smoothes out problems in our home lives which affect our lives at school. She visits homes and sees for herself the difficulties at hand and then helps bring about solutions. Everyone who asks aid gets help. Truly the democratic spirit is shown in the actions of our counselors.

Mrs. Grisell's work is not only in homes but also in school where she does counseling for various purposes.

IN OUR

Cafeteria

OUR cafeteria serves as a democratic dining place as well as a center for all sorts of social functions. The largest school cafeteria in the city, it provides wholesome meals at reasonable prices for all students and teachers. This year, the cafeteria features a sound-proof ceiling and fluorescent lights. Other features are photographic murals and efficient and quick service.

ABOVE: Miss Keep, director, makes plans in her office. Miss Rose Hall, Mrs. Maude Dolzell, Mrs. Anna Wheler, and Mrs. Laura Wagner prepare foods. CENTER: Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Rose Hall clean dishes. Mrs. Cenui Monroe and Miss Kate Rodenbeck serve at the snack bar. BELOW: Mrs. Laura Wagner, Mrs. Leora Meshburger, Mrs. Ethyle Covert, and Mrs. Dalzell begin serving. Mrs. Emma Moreland takes students' money. BOTTOM: Hungry students pass through the cafeteria line.

P-TA ACTIVITIES

MIDDLE: Wayne Ward models a tuxedo at the card party. Mrs. A. N. Hinkle pours at the Founders' Day program. The officers seated around the table are: Mr. Shackelford, Mrs. Gillie, Mrs. Lash, Mrs. Runyon, president; Mrs. McClurg, Mrs. Sheldon and Mrs. Archibald. Student guides give aid to parents on Back-to-School Day.

BELOW: Mrs. William Ratz and others talk to Rabbi Doppelt following his Back-to-School Day lecture. Parents visit Miss Spangler in her biology room on Back-to-School Day.

Parent-Teachers have a full year

Continuing the cause of promoting the welfare of youth in home, school, and community, the P-TA opened the 1948-49 season with a reception for our new principal and his wife. The general theme for the year was "The School in Our Community."

The meetings during the year were featured by very interesting programs. A special guest speaker was Mr. Howard Von Gunten from the Park Board who spoke at the Founders' Day Program on February 11. Mrs. Harold Friedrich and Mrs. Greta Grisell planned interesting study group lessons. A card party, style show was held on November 10 and their dance on April 23 completed their activities for the year.

After seventh period, these students scurry to their lockers, then home, work, or forty-minute detention.

CENTRAL is a cross section of America. It stands for that principle that makes America great—democracy. Here in our halls and classrooms mingle boys and girls from all walks of life—the moneyed and the poor, the brilliant and the slow, the tall and the short, the confident and the faltering. Some will be leaders, some will be followers. But all are important here. At Central the question is not who your parents are and what they have, but who you are and what you can do. Central is truly the proving ground for democracy. Central is democracy in action.

Class Heads

THE DUTIES of the class officers and council consist of planning events for the class as a whole. The Senior banquet, baccalaureate, the commencement dance, and commencement make up the typical senior events, but the 1949 senior class has added the first of what may be an annual picnic.

Louise Hendricks, vice-president; Dick Pifer, president; Starley Dilts, secretary; Miss Margaret Scheumann, and Mr. Maurice Ashley, class advisers.

Top Honors Go

CANDIDATES for National Honor Society are judged on their leadership, service, character, and scholarship for their four years in Central High School. An impressive presentation ceremony was held in the auditorium March 29, with Miss Rosza Tonkel, chairman of the committee, directing. Members received gold pins and were honored at a banquet on May 12. Every year no more than 15 per cent of the senior class are selected for membership in this honor group.

to 40 Seniors

JOHN CAREY AND SHIRLEY ROSS are the first names to appear on the Doenges Cup as Best Boy and Girl Citizens. Qualities considered in the selection were citizenship, loyalty, scholarship, leadership, extra-curricular activities, and friendliness. The McCloud Cup was awarded in 1928 by Miss Erdean McCloud, former Central librarian. When the cup was filled with names, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Doenges, whose four children were Best Citizens, presented the new Doenges Cup.

January Freshmen

MORE than a hundred incoming freshmen swelled the ranks of Centralites in January as new 9B's. These pupils have already felt the democratic spirit of Central.

groups . . .

DEMOCRACY plays an important part in the management of our clubs. The officers are elected by the members. Regular meetings are held in which everyone takes part. Business is brought before the group to decide. However, business is not the only item on the club agendas. Many friendships are made through the associations in our clubs. Games are played at all meetings and refreshments are served. Banquets, parties, and picnics climax the activities of many clubs at the end of the year. Yes, club members have fun and learn responsibility so necessary in a democracy.

The Math Club held its Birthday Anniversary Banquet at the YWCA on December 9. The Math Club is the oldest high school club in the city.

Like It? Our Book!

WORK on the 1949 Caldron began in April, 1948, showing how "Democracy Works at Central" through the different phases of school life. A $6900 budget presented a problem this year because of increase in costs and decrease in enrollment. Except for portraits, the photos are made by boys of our staff—an unusual feature of this All-American Caldron.

The Caldron HAS A Busy Year

Many events make up the year for the Caldron staff. The sale drive opened with the meeting of the agents, who worked hard toward their goal and ended with a total of 1351 sold. The social life included the mid-term party, and the Victory Potluck, with Miss Marian Ingham as guest speaker.

Student Players

THE ANNUAL One-Act Plays, Christmas plays, and the Senior Play given by the Student Players are directed by Miss Margery Suter. The club was organized 29 years ago to promote appreciation for drama. During regular meetings on the first Wednesday of each month, one or two plays are given by members. Points toward gold "D's", awarded seniors, are earned by active work in the club.

Student Council

The STUDENT COUNCIL is an example of democracy at Central. Through this organization the students can voice their opinions on problems that arise in school activities. The new room numbering system, preparing Christmas baskets for the needy, and steps toward elimination of smoking on school grounds are examples of this year's accomplishments of the Council.

OFFICERS: T. Sholeff, vice-president; R. Huffman, president; W. Patton, secretary-treasurer.

ROW ONE: Sholeff, Fuzy, Smith, Patton, Huffman, Starnes, Squires. ROW TWO: Carmichael, Ayres, Cochran, Fancher, Strimmos, Lewis, Wyatt, Beam, Hurst, Hindrichs, Laycoff. ROW THREE: Campbell, Baeske, Ott, Goshert, Hans, Pace, Wass, Mandelsburg, Wolff.

Boosters

BOOSTER CLUB helps promote the sports program by selling at games, sponsoring two annual dances, the Tiger Mixer and the Tiger Hop, and presenting the Valentine Pep Session. They also promote a scholastic program by donating money for scholarships. Booster members are a select group, picked from over 400 applicants.

Hi-Y

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." With that purpose, Hi-Y strives to give members spiritual, mental, and physical growth. The activities are highlighted by traditional events including a dance, group church attendance, a hayride, and the Sweetheart Banquet. All junior and senior boys may join the club and attend the meetings held twice each month at the YMCA.

CENTRAL'S Red Cross activities during 1948-1949 included the Christmas Dance, "Santa's Capers," with Delvers Club to raise money for boxes for overseas children. With the Student Council, it inspired Central's student body to provide Christmas food and clothing to 23 needy local families. It bought and dressed 16 dolls for hospital children.

OFFICERS: Marilyn Squires, program chairman; Miss Ingham, adviser; Bonnie Leitch, president; Velma Birl, secretary.

SEWING FOR overseas and filling the boxes are Marcia Holland, Marjory Stoner, Donna Apple, Barbara Thompson, Betty DePew, Bonnie Leitch, Velma Birl, Patty Brown, Nila Herbst, Miss Ingham, Carol Carmichael.

DISPLAYING THE dolls they dressed for overseas boxes are Patty Goche-nauer, Patty Brown, Betty Richardson, Norma Smith, Donna Gribler, Carol Guenther, and Donna Apple.

Friendship Club

FRIENDSHIP CLUB is a junior division of the YWCA. Its members, called Y-Teens, endeavor to live up to the club's purpose, "To face life squarely; to find and give the best." The bi-monthly meetings are under the direction of Miss Marie Lebamoff and Miss Helen Burr. Guest speakers, a point system, Mother-Daughter teas, and the annual banquet aid members in developing mentally, socially, and spiritually.

OFFICERS: Eleanor Alfeld, membership; Marlene Koenig, music; Marlene Evans, points; Pat Bolhauve, service; Charlotte Williams, publicity; Vickie Holom, treasurer; Joy Beare, social. Sitting: Sue Baxter, vice-president; Shirley Ross, president; Lucille Hurst, secretary.

SMELTZER, Bradshaw, Roos, Fowler, Kiel, Miss Lebamoff, Balyeat, Polley, Wilkinson, Hoppell drink cokes at the membership party. Meyers, Long, Polley, Wolfcale, Uhlig give presents for the needy at Christmas time.

Library Club

"YOUR name and home room, please?" This is the chant of the 20 student library helpers. Central's Library Service Group organized in 1936, has the motto "That I may be of service." As workers come in contact with the student body, this service develops dependability and accuracy. Student helpers receive certificates and pins for their achievements. The librarian, Miss Gertrude Beierlein, is adviser for the club.

OFFICERS: Jackie May, secretary; Miss Gertrude Beierlein, adviser; Barbara Babcock, president.

BARBARA LEAZIER, Marcia Schmidt, Evelyn Nahrwold, Sara Prewitt, and Holly Breece work at the desk checking library records.

RUTH ROEMBKE, Marlene Shields, Robert Anders, Norma Brittin, Lois Starost, Mary Monahan, Irene Plescher, and Marcia Schmidt look over and check the magazines and books.

Nature Club

THE NATURE CLUB'S outstanding events were the officers' trip to Indiana University, the trip to Pokagon Park, and the out-door breakfast. The program of meetings consisted of project work, speakers, movies, and games. The requirements to join are one or more semesters of Biology and a growing interest in nature. Miss Spangler advises.

OFFICERS: Carol Gephart, vice-president and secretary; Evelyn Mast, treasurer and secretary; Richard Gambrell, treasurer; Nancy Miller, president; Vernon Vice, vice-president and president.

At the Central-South Side game, February 12, Central fans go wild. In moments like this all Centralites cheer as one man, urging their team on to victory.

IN A DEMOCRACY there must be fair play, working together, good health and wise use of leisure time. Central meets all of these aims through sports. Every one takes part in sports at Central. Girls learn to play fairly in their gym and swimming classes, also in the CGAA program. All boys take part in gym and intramural. Any boy may tryout for the basketball, football, and track teams. The best player, chosen strictly on merit, is chosen for the team. It is a necessity in a democracy for all the people to work together and sports provide this opportunity.

Fast action marked the night game with Central Catholic this year. These tackles stopped Central but not for long.

Win Seven of Nine

The 1948 football season proved to be a successful one for Central as the Tigers won seven games, tied one, and lost one contest in a nine-game schedule. The one blemish on the Bengal's record was 26-0 loss to South side at South Side Stadium, November 13. This contest, deciding the City champion, was played in ankle-deep mud, thus slowing down the Blue jackrabbit backs.

Much credit for their fine record is due to the coaching of Head Coach Herb Banet and Assistant Coaches Waveland Snider and "Pete" Williams.

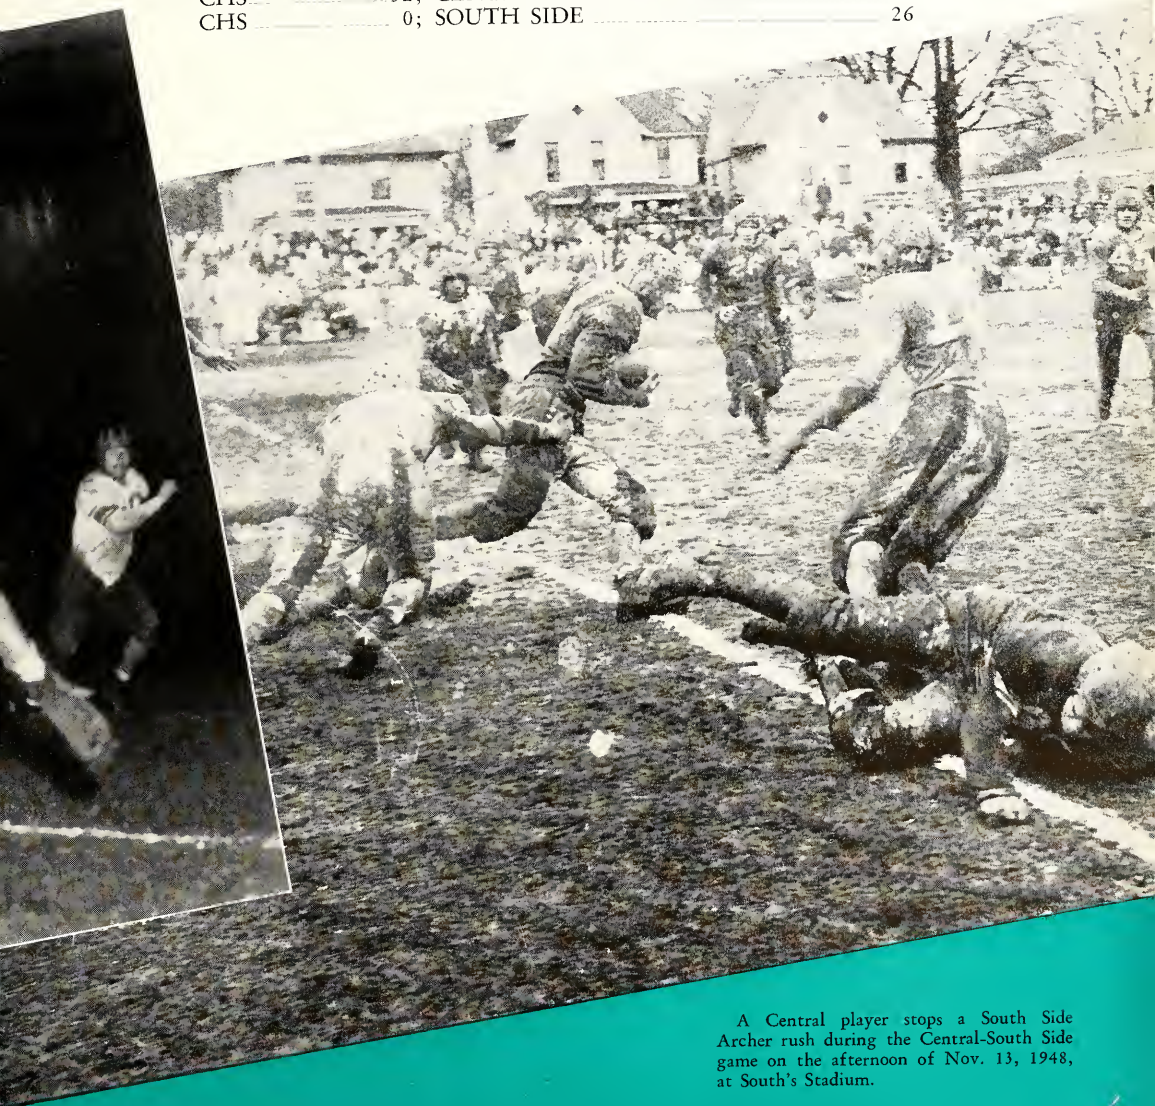

The Tigers will lose many key players via graduation but will have six lettermen back next season; Budd Olinger, Sam Sims, Jim Taylor, Bill Kinsey, Ben Hobbs, and Dick Haag. The Central squad chose three seniors as co-captains of the gridiron team. These three honored players are John Carey, Neal Hoeppner, and Phil Holom.

The Bengals scored a total of 244 points in all games while holding the opposition to a scant 72. Our team, light in weight, featured fast movement and clever field work.

Sectional Champions!

AFTER a dismal showing at the start of the season, our fighting speed merchants made a brilliant comeback in the latter part of the campaign and walked away with the Fort Wayne Sectional crown, only to lose in the Regionals to the Auburn Red Devils, one of the final four teams at the state tourney at Indianapolis. The Central boys, who finished second in the City race, were hardly afforded a chance to cop the crown, came through with what it takes, to beat Monroeville in the afternoon and then polish off City-Champion North Side. The 1949 outfit could be truly called a team. The boys worked together splendidly and there was no one individual star. The Bengals ended their season with a record of 16 wins and 10 losses.

Boys SHOW SKILL In Gym

SOME of the varied activities on the boys' gym schedule include swimming, for the first time, in the Purdue Center Pool, exercising with bar bells, tumbling, boxing, and wrestling, and basketball. These exercises provide a means of exertion for the boys and lead the way to physical fitness. The regulation for four years of physical education has continued since the war. The boys excelling in gym are the athletic stars of the future. All kinds of competitive activities produce a strong sense of sportsmanship and democracy.

TOP LEFT: The boys in the swimming class pause for a picture. TOP RIGHT: Up! Down! Knee bends are performed by the boys to keep trim. MIDDLE RIGHT: Somersaults and cartwheels are executed by these tumblers. LOWER LEFT: Boys engage in a vigorous bout of boxing. LOWER RIGHT: These two boys enjoy a friendly game of wrestling.

THE 1948 edition of Central's tracksters proved that Central can excel on the cinder paths. The Tigers won seven meets and finished third in the Kokomo Relays, the Fort Wayne City meet, and the Fort Wayne Sectional of the IHSAA track tourney. The blue thinyclads were especially strong in short distance runs, the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, and half-mile relay. John Bright, Central star, set a new record for the pole vault in the city as he vaulted 12 feet 5½ inches at the City Meet May 5 at North Side.

CGAA

TO FULFILL its purpose of formation, GAA has once again established friendships and provided a democratic plan by which both skilled and unskilled girls may participate. Miss Lenna Arnold, adviser of CGAA, has been influential in increasing girls sports activities and developing for them a true understanding of sportsmanship. Traditional sports of the club are volleyball, speedball, basketball, tumbling, tap, swimming, and folk dancing. The highest esteemed events are the Christmas party, the dance, the annual GAA banquet, and the girls gym exhibition.

CENTRAL'S social events and special programs provide an excellent opportunity for students to work and have fun together. All pupils, freshmen through seniors, put together their talents in order to present enjoyable dances, pep sessions, and special assemblies. These associations pave the way for friendships and help promote the spirit of brotherly love. Yes, everyone is given an equal chance in the activities of Central. Fellow classmates choose the dance chairmen and those receiving social honors, such as prom queens and attendants. Centralites really make democracy work. All have equal opportunities at Central.

"Bum's Rush" was the caption of the annual Poor Man's Prom, sponsored by the Caldron and Spotlight, in the cafeteria Friday, April 16, 1948. A satirical queen and her 14 attendants, elected by the student body, presided.

Ready for Curtain

THE DRAMATIC season was climaxed this year with the usual Senior Play, a light comedy, "Art for Art's Sake," November 19 and 20. The two other main attractions of the year were the Christmas Play and the Senior One-Acts. All plays were under the direction of Miss Margery Suter.

“Stairway to the Stars”

The 1948 Junior Prom, “Stairway to the Stars,” staged in the cafeteria May 15, was beautiful and truly different. The decorations were carried out in a starry heaven effect with the side panels illustrating a small portion of the theme song. The false ceiling was dotted with stars to look like a starry sky.

STUDENTS flock from other schools in the city to attend Central dances, known for being well organized and enjoyable. Central has the largest room, our cafeteria, and, with the new ceiling the orchestra can be better heard. The attendance of the dances throughout the year have varied from 1033, the Caldron and Spotlight dance, to 400. Don Brown, a Central senior, and his orchestra played at the informal dances. Among the popular dances of the year are the Tiger Hop, Math Club Dance, Poor Man's Prom, and Senior Prom.

Fun! Pep Sessions

THE BOYS' gym is the center of Central's pep sessions where the students and faculty combine their talents to provide enjoyable programs. The Caldron pep session and Booster Valentine pep session, where the basketball players are honored, are traditions which have long been established. The Christmas assembly started a new tradition of giving baskets to needy families.

MANY events fill the year of the Central students. Pep sessions, assemblies, and contests capture the interest of the student body. Cheerleaders from North Side, South Side, Central Catholic, and Concordia participated in a pep session after Central won the Sectional. The magazine sale campaign was of interest to all students. Sewing classes modeled in a style show sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Company.

Fun! Events Fill the Year

Good-bye, Mr. Croninger!

A memorable event at Central was Recognition Day, May 28, 1948 when Mr. Fred H. Croninger, principal for 26 years at Central, announced his resignation. Tears filled the eyes of both faculty and students. He will be remembered as long as there is a Central.
